This wonderful national park occupies the green, western third of the long and slender Mljet Island. It includes two inlets which, due to their extremely narrow links to the sea, are regarded as, and indeed are called, lakes: the Great Lake and the Small Lake. Both are encircled by footpaths, and their blue-green waters are fabulous for plunging into.

The tour starts at 9.00 am. We'll pass Ston and catch a ferry to Mljet Island. We'll then travel by bus for about half an hour to reach the Mljet National Park which we'll explore on foot. We'll walk around both lakes, we'll climb to the highest point within the park, Montokuc, we'll reach a viewpoint above the waves breaking on the rugged south coast, and we'll take a boat down the Great Lake to St. Mary's Islet which boasts the 12th century Benedictine Monastery. Since you are already here, why not jump into the lakes?

Return to the hotel at approximately 8.30 pm.
